Boston Priest Takes To Air To Spike Coughlin

By Religious News Service

BOSTON.—The Protocols of the Elders of Zion are a "plagiarism and a fraud" declared Father Michael J. Ahern, S. J., of Weston College, in his weekly broadcast over the Catholic Truth Hour here. The Pilot, semi-official organ of the Boston Archdiocese, has republished Father Ahern's talk in full, prominently displayed.

Father Ahern ridicules claims that the Protocols prove the Jews seek world-wide domination by a pre-conceived plot. He quotes the Rev. P. Charles of the Jesuit College in Louvain, Belgium, as saying, "The more thoroughly one examines these Protocols so much the more do they demonstrate their absurdity, their contradictory character and their childishness."

The speaker traced the publication of the Protocols, which appeared in their plagiarized form in 1905, and showed that it had been copied almost verbatim, with only slight changes in words and names, from a harmless political satire about Napoleon published in 1864.

It is believed that Father Ahern's talks on the Protocols, and republication of his speech in the Pilot, is intended to offset any prejudice which may have been created from recent publication of the discredited Protocols in Fr. Charles Coughlin's Social Justice.

Schrafft Stores Are Exonerated

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK — Charges that Schrafft stores were discouraging Jewish patronage are without foundation in fact, the American Jewish Congress's Commission on Economic Problems announced after an investigation into the accusations, which had been recurrent in many sections of the United States. The report said it had not been possible to find a single Jew who experienced the rebuff referred to, to identify a single store or waitress allegedly informing Jews that Schrafft's discouraged Jewish patronage or to find a single letter allegedly written by the Frank G. Shattuck Company, owners of Schrafft's, corroborating such a statement.

The General Council for Jewish Rights issued a statement concurring in the findings.

By Religious News Service

Smith, former Managing Editor of the Brooklyn Daily Eagle, as Executive Director of the newly formed American Jewish Federation to Combat Communism and Fascism, Inc., was announced here by Milton Solomon, Chairman. Palestine Flooded

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

TEL AVIV — Palestine this week surveyed the results of its worst flood in recent history, which destroyed property valued at hundreds of thousands of dollars, swept away homes and left hundreds of families destitute. No loss of life was reported. The flood was caused by a 48-hour storm, which came as the country awaited the political storm that was expected to break when the British Government announced its new policy on the Holy Land in Parliament Wednesday.

Rainfall of 300 millimeters (about 11.7 inches) was registered in Tel Aviv—more than one-half the average annual rainfall of 540 millimeters (about 21 inches). The torrential rains came at the opening of Palestine's rainy season. A wall of water poured down from the Judean Hills, inundating most of the roads in the fertile, Jewish-colonized Sharon Valley. Railway tracks were covered and telephone lines were downed.

Nazi Olympic Film Showing Opposed

Special

NEW YORK.—The Joint Boycott Council of the American Jewish Congress and the Jewish Labor Committee in a statement issued yesterday declared that it was planning a campaign to make certain that the Nazi propaganda film of the 1936 Olympics which is being brought over to this country by Leni Riefenstahl, Hitler's intimate director of the Nazi film industry, would not be shown anywhere in the United States.

The Council since the advent of Hitlerism has carried on a militant fight against the exhibition and distribution of Nazi made films in this country, as a result of which Nazi film companies have suffered heavy losses during the past four years. Through its Film Board with which are associated a number of leaders in the movie world, all national distributors have signed the Boycott pledge and, with the exception of Yorkville and two or three other German communities in the United States, no exhibitor will handle this type of product, according to the Council.

Boycott Week Proclaimed

Special

NEW YORK.—As an action of dramatic defiance and opposition to Hitler's regime, before whom the heads of the world's most powerful States have bowed, the Joint Boycott Council has set aside the week of November 27 to December 3 as the Second Annual Anti-Nazi Week.

CANADA OPENS DOORS

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

OTTAWA.—The Immigration Department disclosed this week that it will admit to Canada a large number of German, Austrian, Italian and Polish medical and chemical specialists who are "particularly qualified." The immigration authorities expressed the belief that the immigration figures for the coming year will increase. The Government was expected to announce this week a more liberal immigration policy. It is believed that the gates will be opened gradually.

Emergency Drive Of J.D.C. Raises $300,000 In 4 Days

Special

NEW YORK.—Over $300,000 has been received in the last four days in response to appeal for a $1,000,000 emergency fund to meet the problems arising out of mass deportations of Polish Jews from Germany and recent events in Czechoslovakia and Austria, it was announced at the offices of the Joint Distribution Committee. In New York alone over $50,000 has been received in immediate response to the emergency appeal.

The emergency funds were received following appeals by Rabbi Jonah B. Wise, national campaign chairman and Edward M. M. Warburg, chairman of the greater New York campaign. The appeals, sent to leaders of Jewish communities throughout the United States and Canada, stated that recurring emergencies overseas since the first of the year had completely exhausted the funds of the J. D. C. and that an emergency campaign for a million dollars in cash was being launched.

Expressing gratification at the response received thus far, Rabbi Wise stated that he believed that the goal of the emergency fund would be realized within a very short time.

"Advices from Europe", Dr. Wise stated, "Reveal that the J. D. C. is co-operating with the Polish authorities to send many of the deportees from Germany to homes of relatives in Poland or to special camps which the J. D. C. maintains in Poland. These funds, Dr. Wise said, "have been used also to supply the refugees with food and clothing and pay special reduced railway fares into the interior. Thousands of refugees reaching Warsaw are being taken care of by the J. D. C."

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK.—Rabbi Morris Lichtenstein, founder and leader of the Jewish Science movement, died at Mt. Sinai Hospital at the age of 48 after an illness of several months. The movement, which he organized in 1921, emphasized peace of mind and bodily health through Judaism. He was born in Lithuania and studied here at Hebrew Union College, Cincinnati University and Columbia University.

400 HEAD FOR LIBERIA

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

GALATZ, Rumania.—Bearing 400 Jewish refugees from Austria, the steamer Draga sailed down the Danube for Monrovia, capital of the African Republic of Liberia. The refugees are settling in the African State, which was founded in 1822 by American Negroes, with the permission of the Liberian government. They left Vienna early last week.

ASKS LOAN FOR REFUGEES

OTTAWA — Declaring Canada needed 25,000,000 people to restore her prosperity, the influential weekly, Saturday Night, advocated in an article a Government loan of $10,000,000 to be used in facilitating admission and settlement of refugees. The article said the refugees appreciated a free country and their admission would be a blow

STABLES AND MILLS HOUSE REFUGEES

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

WARSAW.—Cabled funds from the United States and money orders from Poland and other countries for 1,000 of 5,000 Nazi-deported Polish Jews lay unclaimed and undelivered at the Zbonszyn post office while refugee relief leaders announced that funds at their disposal would enable them to carry on for only a few days more. The cabled and wired money, sent by relatives, could not be turned over because the post office officials found it impossible to locate the addressees.

Western Reserve Honors Al Litwak

Special

CLEVELAND, O.—For the second time in the school's history, Western Reserve University here honored a member of its football team when it called last Saturday's game against the University of West Virginia, "Al Litwak Day".

A senior at the University, Litwak during his three years with the Red Cats has guided his team to twenty-four wins and only two losses. Litwak, the quarterback, has been credited with a large measure of the team's success because of his selection of plays, blocking and backing up of the line.

The Jewish star has only three more games to play with his alma mater.

RETURN CUT OFF

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

BERLIN.—Hope that the 12,000 Jews deported from the Reich would be permitted to return dwindled as the Polish-German conversations were broken off. It was learned from usually reliable quarters that the Nazis regarded the deportations as a fait accompli and were limiting the discussions to future developments concerning the 38,000 Polish Jews remaining in Germany. The discussions were expected to be resumed later this week.

More Farm Schools Needed, Meet Hears

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

DOYLESTOWN, Pa. — "A far-sighted Jewry" must meet the challenge of the anti-Semitic accusation that Jews are non-productive and non-pioneering by providing further financial support for the National Farm School, declared Joseph H. Hagedorn, president of the school, addressing its 41st annual meeting.

Mr. Hagedorn said: "If we could carry out all the plans we have, we would create here a center of educational endeavor that would soon be the magnet, drawing other groups to like effort. Instead of one such farm school, our country needs many, because, while agriculture has advanced amazingly in recent years, and science has wrested from nature many valuable secrets and developed soil culture to a marked degree, the findings are in the hands of comparatively few, when we consider our population of urban dwellers."

Scouting the Shops

By MILDRED COHEN

A newcomer this week. The Van Hunter Beauty Salon at 411 Roosevelt Building. I hope you'll accord this new advertiser the same fine patronage as you have the three regulars—Hillman's Indiana Fur and L. S. Ayres Bakery.

A word for the wise.

Met Mr. Hillman today and what he told me during our conversation is too good to keep. He said: "The really smart girl would rather have two good dresses than five mediocre ones. She can never tell when her good dress will be the advantage she needs when THE BIG OPPORTUNITY arrives, whereas she would have no chance at all if she were wearing any one of five just 'so so' dresses." And I agree. And I know you will too. Really, we are fortunate in having a FINE shop like HILLMAN'S in Indianapolis.

If you want the latest in hair styles, you'll just have to visit the Van Hunter Beauty Salon at 411 Roosevelt Bldg. This is one beauty shop you'll enjoy visiting. It's complete, and modern, and you'll get the finest attention. This week you can get a hot oil shampoo, a hair set and a manicure, all for $1.25. If you don't think that's a bargain, you don't know. Van Hunter's reputation for quality work. Their work is as good, if not better, than any other beauty shop in Indianapolis. I ought to know, I always go there. And so do many of my friends. Van Hunter's are offering permanents from $3.50 to $10.00. For appointments call Riley 5982. This is another time, you'll thank me for my advice.

My, didn't I get many compliments from the large number of readers who took to heart what I told them about the cakes at the L. S. Ayres Bakery Shop on the store's first floor. This week, Mr. Vanderbilt is offering for his specialty a 1 lb. layer coffee cake with Danish dough and prune filled, all garnished with pecans for only 30 cents. There you are. Go get it. You can call in your orders. The cake is so delicious that you'll become one of the many Ayres Coffee cake addicts. It makes six good-sized servings, and all six will praise you for your excellent taste in cake-buying.

The chilly weather does many things, and one of them is to turn thoughts of ladies to fur coats. So you go down to the Indiana Fur Co. store in the Hume-Mansur building across the street from the postoffice. And there you find a glorious selection of silver fox jackets and coats, gleaming with silver, and just the thing you've always dreamed of owning. These silver foxes are the very latest in design and style. You'll be the envy of all your friends if you wear one, I know. Then you mustn't forget the hats to match. They're priced at $3, $5 and $10. The Indiana Fur Co. is enjoying its largest business in years, and it's obvious why.

Hail Partition Defeat

PEOPLE AND PLACES

By SEYMOUR PINKUS

A tisket, a tasket,
I almost owned a casket:—

And that is why there was no column last week. Being a mere human, sickness came along, hauled me down, tried to keep me there, didn't succeed, and so, I am back on the job for the best Jewish weekly in the world. (Including Germany and Italy). During my illness I was not informed that my fiancé, Ginger Schwartz, was taken to the Methodist hospital for an appendicitis operation. She is getting along o. k. now and we'll try our best to stay on the job and give you the latest.

They say old news is no news, but since it was impossible to tell you all of the peach-iferous time everyone had at the Broadmoor Halloween dance in the column last week, and because it was really such a snazzy shindig, we will tell you what transpired now and turn a frozen shoulder on newspaper ethics. Sidney Sternberger, dressed as the front page of Esquire took the first prize in a walk. Mort Sternfels was dressed as a slightly huge colored mammy and he even had a live chicken with him. Hiding behind the false faces of Carole Lombard and Frederic March were Roger and Louise Kahn, ah to be in Hollywood! Either Lew Lurie's tailor didn't get his work out on time, or else Lew committed a slight social error but yes, friends, he ran around all evening without benefit of pantaloons, trousers to youse. We thought Abner Schwartz had on one of his new, special streamlined suits, but we found that he was garbed as an Argentina Gaucho, that, dear ones, is the South American variety of cowboy. Betty Sachs, as a French apache dancer, looked like the real thing and Sonny Weinberg, in a costume showing her to be half good and half bad, was quite oaky doaky. Ida Shapiro and her other half, Buster, who dressed as Hawaiians, grass skoits et cetera, avoided all lighted matches, catch on? Meyer Efrogmson, suddenly transformed into an East Indian General, was with Bess Epstein, a colonial maid—strange how people from all corners of the world, no matter how remote, are at sometime or other brought together. "Jitterbug" Ruth Traugott was the "Spirit of Swing," Heid de ho. Bud Mossler, circus ringmaster for the greatest show on earth, was looking for a horse for his wife, who appeared as a jockey. But Wolf, disguised as a luscious milk maid learned plenty of things that only little milk maids know.

How'd you like a couple of free passes to one of the theaters downtown? You would, well send us your guess as to the outcome of the Purdue-Indiana football game the Saturday after this, and the closest pick will be awarded the tickets. Have your answers in this office before next Thursday. Thank youse.

Ralph Alexander Cohen, son of Mark and Kay Cohen is getting cuter every day, we are told. O. k. girls, here's your chance to grab a fellow from the younger crop, so set your caps for him. By the way, Ralph Alexander is seven weeks old.

At the opening of "Pins and Needles" at the English Theatre the Tuesday before last were Dr. Clarence Efrogmson and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Herman Strashun, Mr. and Mrs. L. J. Borinstein, Emanuel Hochman and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Mueller, Mr. and Mrs. I. G. Kahn, Wilma Goldberg with her mother and aunt, Edward Cohn, Prof. Rosenstein and many others who enjoyed a most delightful evening. Most folks came minus their glad rags, in fact there was a decided absence of zee soup and zee feesh.

At the Teacher's dance Saturday night, held at the Murat temple, were Helen and Harry Myers and Zeema Valinetz and Charles Bassler. Did every one bring apples?

Seen at the Plantation (no, I don't mean a southern farm, I mean the nightery on road 67) 'ta other night were Walter Kohn and Ruth Harris wining, dining and dancing, Aaron Goldman and Dorothy "Texas Belle" Stern, and many, many others. Nice place, isn't it?

How many of you know Sol Levy? Well, if you don't, get acquainted. He's a Chicago boy, is employed here by a large trucking company and lives at the Y.M.C.A.

Milton Strauss is forming a swing band, and although we haven't heard them, Milt tells us that his boys are really the tops in the line of swingaroo. O. K. Milt, we are looking forward to hear them toot.

You know, when my time comes to bid farewell to this old world I am going to hire six bankers as pallbearers. They've carried me so long, they might as well finish the job!

See you at the Achad Ha'am dance Sunday night and at Sam's Subway afterwards.

Miss Patsy Jackson was hostess to the Deb-etie Club Sunday afternoon when a drawing was made with the winner being Philip Rapaport. Miss Peggy Kahn will be hostess for the meeting Nov. 20.

Leonard Berkowitz, Louis Silver and Walter Sicanoff spent the weekend at the Kentucky Hotel in Louisville. While there they were entertained by members of the Louisville A. Z. A.

Between You and Me—

by PAUL A. PETERS

PARTY: Regent Horthy, boss of Hungary, has a strapping young son who is partial to parties. . . . And is also partial to the liquids that laugh. . . . A recently-arrived Hungarian blue-blood who moved in the Horthy partying circles tells us this one about the lad. . . . He was at a party for a beautiful Jewish society deb, member of a wealthy, aristocratic family. . . . And as the evening wore on and the party waxed merrier, young Horthy declaimed to a group of young Jews and Jewesses. . . . "I don't know what father wants of you, but as for me, you are the only people among whom I really enjoy myself." . . . His mother, Mme. Horthy, incidentally, has some way-back-when Jewish blood in her. . . .

MAN: B. Charney Vladeck was—we say it without fear of contradiction—one of the most genuinely liked and popular Jewish leaders in the nation. . . . Stories about his good qualities, his sense of humor, his modesty and intense devotion to the cause of social justice will be told ad infinitum. . . . Here are a few that may have escaped the reader's attention and certainly were omitted in the formal obituaries. . . . The late Felix M. Warburg, introducing Vladeck at the opening exercises of the Graduate School for Jewish Social Work, commented on how well they both got along in their work on the Joint Distribution Committee. . . . "Even though," he added, "I am a capitalist and he is a laborite." . . . Paul Sann, N. Y. Post City Hall reporter to whom Vladeck revealed what was described as Mayor LaGuardia's plan for municipal housing subsidies, discloses that Vladeck was the author of that plan but had exacted from Sann a promise that his own name was not to appear in connection with it. . . . His last letter, signed a few minutes before he took ill, was written for the ORT, to which he devoted much effort and time. . . . It reveals both his sense of humor and innate modesty. . . . Addressed to Judge Jacob Panken, he began. . . . "As busy as I am with saving the world and the Jews from destruction. . . ." And ended, "It is a long time since I troubled you, so I hope that you will forgive me." . . . All he had asked was that the Judge speak for the ORT at a New Haven rally. . . . To give you a rough idea of the tremendous crowd that sought to jam its way into the Forward building for the Vladeck services, special passes had to be issued to Forward employees to permit them to get into the building to their jobs the day of the funeral. . . .

ANECDOTE: Rabbi Jonah Wise likes to tell this one on himself. . . . When he came to N. Y. to take over the Central Synagogue pulpit some dozen years ago, he was interviewed by a reporter for a big Yiddish daily. . . . When the story was published, it proved highly sarcastic. . . . Revealing that the rabbi's accomplishments seemed to run mainly along three lines: golfing, fishing and shooting. . . . Some days later, subject of the interview met reporter in the subway. . . . "It's a good thing for you," he told Fourth Estater, "that you were wrong about my accomplishments. . . . I don't shoot." . . .

MISH-MASH: Carl Alpert of the Boston Jewish Advocate spots the darnest things — this time that the October issue of the Jewish Guild Magazine of So. Africa has Yehudi Menuhin in love with a Jewish girl in Holland. . . . Which calls for a round of aspirin — Australian papers please copy. . . . Dr. Nahum Goldmann took a crack at Jewish organizational leadership at the recent Congress session. . . . To which Rabbi Stephen S. Wise took exception, announcing that the man from Geneva might have differentiated between the Congress leadership and the others.

Franciska Gaal Was Fanny Finklestein In Budapest; Melvyn Douglas Makes Stirring Palestine Address

By HELEN ZIGMOND

HOLLYWOOD. — According to our informant . . . the pert, vivacious Franciska Gaal was birth-tagged . . . are you listenen? . . . Fanny Finklestein! Franciska was a great stage favorite in Budapest for years . . . long before Movie-town mahatmas discovered her. She was such a box-office draw that she could command almost any salary.

Melvyn Douglas . . . by the way made one of the most stirring speeches at the "Keep-Palestine-Open" mass meeting here. He told a packed auditorium that his father was Jewish . . . his mother was not. His pre-reel name was David Hershelberg.

There's not a feature of Hedy LaMarr's face that could be specified Semitic — except her raven locks. But Italians and Spaniards are also predominantly black-haired. Her nose is as straight as an arro — an Aryan.

Il Duce suddenly finds non-Aryan films unsuitable for Italian consumption . . . yet at the Venice Exposition he awarded a first prize to "Tom Sawyer," produced by David Selznick and directed by Norman Taurog. Now his Fascist press begins the insuperable task of training Italian audiences not to laugh at their former favorites, Chaplin, the Ritzes, and the Marxes. They are not to be considered funny. . . . and "The Marxes are only a big bluff."

Dots and Jots: Dave Rose has composed a swing number called, "Roseraye," dedicated to his bride, Martha. Luise Rainer, Hedy LaMarr, and Franciska Gaal are all becoming American citizens. The Harry Hershfield tome, "Now I'll Tell One," containing the best jokes for the past fifty years, will be off the press shortly . . . and many a radio gagster will be crushed in the rush for a copy. Mrs. Robinson, Eddie's mother, stayed at a hotel during the High Holdays, so she could walk to and from the synagogue. Though Irving Stone has obtained an option from MGM on his Jack London story, "Sailor on Horseback," the sale is stymied because they can't obtain the sanction of the London family. Lewis Milestone, who hasn't done anything screenically important since "All Quiet on the Western Front," plans to produce his original script, "Yellow River." Fannie Brice's daughter makes her movie debut as a member of the Floradora Sextette in "Zaza." Greeting readers with "Goodbye, this is my last column!" Sidney Skolsky signed off for an interim . . . hasn't decided whether to continue a paper pillar or switch to screen scripting. Al Jolson's blog will be authored by Ray Buffum.

Cowan had printed on his checks the title of his latest production, "You Can't Cheat An Honest Man." But taking no chances, he protects his funds with a check marker! * * *

This week Danny Webb has an assignment in "Wreckage," will do the comedy narration for a cartoon, "Birth of a Toothpick," dub in a voice for another, "Looney Town," and is on call for a series of shorts. Outside of that . . . things are pretty quiet.

Make way! The Rosenblooms are coming . . . hurrah! Maxie has purchased two domiciles . . . one for himself . . . the other for his father, mother, brother, sister who are migrating from the east. * * *

As a ballyhoo stunt, Lester

The Editor's Chair,

The task of selecting news for publication requires a certain amount of discrimination. This selection I exercised last week when I refused to publish two articles submitted by a Republican candidate for state office. One of the items was dated Berlin and repeated an article that appeared in the Indianapolis Star of Oct. 14, 1938, telling about the construction of the new U. S. embassy in Berlin. The second article alleged that Walter Laudine, Democratic nominee for commissioner of Gary, was a bund leader.

Undoubtedly the articles were Republican propaganda. Attached to the first item was written a short note, "A number of American citizens are questioning the wisdom of our government in permitting such large expenditure in view of the strained relations existing between our country and Naziland and our ever mounting national debt."

The Indiana Jewish Chronicle, which carries spread across page one, the motto, "Indiana Jewry's Official Organ", printed both items, and without changing one word, even used the note, signing it — EDITOR.

Mr. Laudine may be a Nazi bund leader, but not having had any confirmation of the charge, this paper refused to take the word of a political opponent of Mr. Laudine's just three days before the election. As for the second item, there is even less justification for its publication. No doubt The Chronicle read the original article as it appeared in The Star last month. Had it wanted to comment that "American citizens are questioning the wisdom of our government" in connection with the remodeling of a building for a new embassy, it could have commented at that time, and not have waited until someone whose interest might easily be accused of being partial and who incidentally was an advertiser submitted the article.

Anglo-Jewish journalism, weak as it is often charged, has a certain responsibility. To the non-Jewish public, The Indiana Jewish Chronicle is "Indiana Jewry's Official Organ", and what that paper chooses to print can easily be accepted as the official word of the Jews of Indiana. Of the hundred some odd Anglo-Jewish newspapers in the United States none other is so foolhardy as to call itself the official organ of anything. The Indiana Jewish Chronicle is a business organization, engaged in making money for its owners just as Blocks or Wassons or any other firm.

Some months ago this paper complained in a letter that the "Indiana Jewry's Official Organ" was not valid as the motto of The Chronicle. The Chronicle answered that it was justified in retaining its motto. No Jewish organization of the tens and hundreds in the many cities in the State has appointed The Chronicle as the "official" organ of Indiana Jewry. The assumption by The Chronicle is

Two Drives It Must Be

THE quick response to the $1,000,000 emergency appeal of the Joint Distribution Committee indicates a willingness on the part of the Jews of the United States to go beyond their already stipulated commitments made in the annual drive held in their cities.

In four days, the J.D.C. said this week, $300,000 had been received, and encouraged by this handsome response, Rabbi Wise announced that the goal would be oversubscribed.

The new developments in Europe have changed the tenor of giving in America. Whereas it was questionable to most heretofore whether they need give more than they could comfortably afford, Jews today realize that they actually must sacrifice from their own needs and pleasures to help their brethren in less fortunate lands.

It is exactly because of this new understanding that this paper offers the suggestion that two drives could be held every year in each city. One of the drives might be limited strictly to overseas relief, and the other could be allocated to local and national causes. But even if this suggestion is confronted immediately with numberless objections, what alternative is there. The Jews across the seas need help. That help comes either from us or it does not come at all.

It is no longer a bare question of building a glorious homeland in Palestine, it is no longer a matter of re-training, of redistribution in the economic system, now it is all that and much more. It is a matter of death. It is a matter of starvation, of dying children, of suicide.

In the face of what is going on, will we Americans quibble. No logical persons would suggest two yearly drives were there any alternative. In the days when every organization held its own drive, a far greater sum was raised throughout the United States than is today realized.

If two drives will raise more money, then two drives it must be. What other arguments are there? Those that give $1,000 in two drives as compared to $750 in one drive will not be any worse off in five years than they are today. They will save the money elsewhere. But the lives that are lost in Europe now because $250 less was realized may never be recaptured later.

The $300,000 that poured into New York J.D.C. headquarters came from somewhere. It came from the same people that contributed in the annual drives in their cities. That charitableness is a sign that Jews are ready now to give more. Every city should hold two campaigns yearly, one in the fall and another in the spring.

No Friend Of The Jews

WHEN a Senator Burke or a president of the General Motors Corporation returns from Germany with the report that Germany is the modern miracle nation or that the Nazi regime has transferred Germany into a land of progress and achievement, Jews have no other alternative, if they are honest with themselves, but to class these men in the same group as other enemies of the Jews and civilization. Capone gave charity, employed many men, was generous and strove to build up a strong business organization, yet neither Senator Burke, or Henry Ford or any others who place the stamp of their approval on Hitler, would do else except relegate the Capones to Alcatraz.

Some people may if they wish consider open to doubt reports that the press is stifled in Germany, that the trade unions have been abolished, that the standard of living has been lowered. These points a Senator Burke may deny. But can they deny that the Jews have been robbed of their possessions, that they have been hounded, their jobs, their security, their hope, all relentlessly taken away? These are matters of public record. They are the law in Germany.

Everyone cannot be a friend of civilization and justice. To some it is just their nature that the means justify the ends. These are not friends of the Jews. And Senator Burke and others who return with praise of Hitler and no word about the despoliation of the Jews, are enemies of the Jews. It is better that we recognize them as such instead of attempting to place willy nilly words of alibi in their mouths and thoughts when they themselves have no intention of thus qualifying what they say.

Current Comment

Dr. Jacob Tennenbaum Tells The American Jewish Congress The Results of The Nazi Boycott.—Germany, which in the worst depression of 1932 supplies nearly six per cent of the total imports to the United States, dropped down to three per cent in 1937 and is now selling in the United States 40 per cent less than in the same nine month period a year ago. In consumers' goods where naturally the boycott has a wider range, the effect of boycott is most striking. There has been a drop of German cotton gloves alone, amounting to two million dollars in one single year. Imports of German gloves shrank from five million dollars in 1935 to barely 800 thousand dollars in 1937. Furs dropped from a million dollars worth in 1936 to 200 thousand dollars in 1937.

Leather from 1,220,000 dollars to 500,000 dollars in 1937. Germany makes a still poorer showing in the current year of 1938, where leather gloves, for instance, dropped from 183,000 dollars in the five month period of 1937 to 26,000 dollars in 1938; cotton gloves from 500,000 dollars during the same period a year ago to 17,000 dollars this year; squirrel skins from over two million skins in 1933 to 14,000; fitch from 468,125 to 815; rabbit from 159,632 to 21,716 and others from hundreds of thousands to zero. The factor most responsible for the cleaning up of the fur market is unceasing vigilance of your Joint Boycott Council in the fur industry, as proven by one of the most sensational arbitration trials less than a year ago, resulting in an award of 75,000 dollars fine.

The Jewish Independent, of Cleveland, Recalls Acts of Friendship To Jews By Dr. Hans Borchers, When He Was Stationed In The Ohio City.—The Dr. Hans Borchers, who as German consul general in New York delivered an address at Turn Hall, Lexington Avenue and Eighty-fifth Street, New York, on Oct. 27, in which he declared that "only the times and circumstances made it necessary to tackle the elimination of Jewish influence," and that, "in many other parts of the world where, relatively speaking, Jewish influence became too strong, opposing forces began to make themselves felt," is the Dr. Hans Borchers who once served as German consul in Cleveland.

In 1929 Dr. Borchers was a contributor to the Fund for the Lessing Mendelssohn Good Will celebration then being held in Cleveland. In addition, through his office, the German Republic presented a painting of Lessing to the Cleveland Public Library, and Dr. Borchers, at one of the gatherings of the celebration, read a cable of greeting from Foreign Minister Stressemann of Germany.

In 1931 Dr. Borchers was a speaker at an observance marking the 75th anniversary of the death of Heinrich Heine. Dr. Borchers voiced great admiration for the great German-Jewish poet. He was in complete sympathy with the German Republic's attitude of warm acceptance of the poet and his work.

Lessing and Heine have been banned by the regime which Borchers now represents. Mendelssohn has also been hurled into the discard by the Hitler regime.

Rabbi Frederick Cohn Answers The Omaha World-Herald's Editorial "What Can Be Done" in The Jewish Press of Omaha.—What shall we do?

Is it not time to do something practical and unmistakable? To take the bull (and the bullies, by the horn and show that the democracies, that they so much despise and insult and threaten, have not wholly lost their strength and their character and their self-respect and are not wholly defenseless against these repeated and truculent assaults? The self-respecting nations should at once sever diplomatic relations with such nations as German, the ring-leader of the criminal band (as brave Brazil has already done.) For far less cause the United States, under President Taft (a Republican) broke off diplomatic relations with Russia. We should refuse to have dealings with out-law nations who have put themselves beyond the pale of civilization by their unjust, brutal, and inhuman actions. Germany's cup of iniquity is almost full. For what are we waiting? We shall have to resort to this sooner or later. It might as well be sooner, before Germany, and her partners in international wrongdoings are too strong. "A stitch in time saves nine." We serve the highest interests of peace by bringing to a climax the world's protest against long-continued barbarity, national and international injustice, monstrous and unspeakable wrong.

May Name Project In N. Y. For Vladeck

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK—Naming of a new $25,000,000 housing project in the lower East Side after the late R. C. Vladeck, "the great fighter for the clearance of East Side slums," was suggested by Borough President Stanley Isaacs. Vladeck left an estate of less than $500 and no will, it was learned at Surrogate's Court. His funeral, which packed East Side streets with more than 500,000 persons, was accounted one of the greatest demonstrations of mourning in the Jewish section's history. Mayor LaGuardia, Sholem Asch, Norman Thomas and David Dubinsky were among those who eulogized him at the services in Forward Hall.

Statements of tribute came from many of the organizations and persons with whom Mr. Vladeck had been associated in his active and varied career, including the Joint Distribution Committee, the Jewish Labor Committee, the American ORT Federation, Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, City Council President Newbold Morris and Senator Robert F. Wagner.

Funeral services were held Wednesday morning from the Jewish Daily Forward building, of which newspaper he was general manager for 20 years and which appeared Monday with a black-bordered front page. Surviving him are his widow, Mrs. Clara Richman Vladeck; three children, William and Stephen Vladeck, Mrs. Norbert Bromberg; four brothers, Max, Charles, Samuel and Daniel Charney, the last of whom is in Paris with a sister, Miss Miriam Charney.

Goldman, Lipsky Leave For Europe

By Jewish Telegraphic Agency

NEW YORK—Dr. Solomon Goldman, president of the Zionist Organization of America, and Louis Lipsky, member of the World Zionist Executive, left Tuesday on the Nieuw Amsterdam for London, for a three-day stay to discuss with Dr. Chaim Weizmann, president of the Jewish Agency, and members of the Agency Executive the action already taken by the American Emergency Committee on Palestine and review a further program to safeguard the continuation of Jewish immigration into Palestine. They are also expected to meet with several British and American officials in London.

EDITOR'S CHAIR

(Continued from First Column) not only erroneous but it is at the same time dangerous. Even were The Chronicle the finest Jewish paper in the United States it should have hesitated and deliberated before it assumed to arrogate to itself the official right to speak for the 27,000 Jews of Indiana.
